NEW QUESTION: 1

You are deploying Office 365 for your organization.

You are preparing to delegate permissions by using the built-in Microsoft Exchange Online role groups. You must assign teams to the roles that give them the least permissions while still allowing them to perform the following tasks:

- * Team 1: place mailboxes on Litigation Hold
- * Team 2: create retention tags and policies
- * Team 3: create and manage resource mailboxes
- * Team 4: update users' display names
- * Team 5: create and manage security groups

You need to delegate permissions to the teams.

To which role group should you assign each team? To answer, drag the appropriate role group to the correct team. Each role group may be used once, more than once, or not at all. You may need to drag the split bar between panes or scroll to view content.

Answer:

Explanation:

Explanation

Discovery Management: Administrators or users who are members of the Discovery Management role group can perform searches of mailboxes in the Exchange organization for data that meets specific criteria and can also configure litigation holds on mailboxes.

Records Management: Users who are members of the Records Management role group can configure compliance features, such as retention policy tags, message classifications, transport rules, and more.

Recipient Management: Administrators who are members of the Recipient Management role group have administrative access to create or modify Exchange 2013 recipients within the Exchange 2013 organization.

Help Desk: Users who are members of the Help Desk role group can perform limited recipient management of Exchange 2013 recipients. The Help Desk role group, by default, enables members to view and modify the Outlook Web App options of any user in the organization. These options might include modifying the user's display name, address, phone number, and so on. They don't include options that aren't available in Outlook Web App options, such as modifying the size of a mailbox or configuring the mailbox database on which a mailbox is located.

Organization Management: Administrators who are members of the Organization Management role group have administrative access to the entire Exchange 2013 organization and can perform almost any task against any Exchange 2013 object, with some exceptions. Of the groups listed, the Organization Management group is the only that can create and manage security groups.

NEW QUESTION: 3

An application serializes and deserializes XML from streams. The XML streams are in the following format:

The application reads the XML streams by using a `DataContractSerializer` object that is declared by the following code segment:

var ser = new DataContractSerializer(typeof(Name));

You need to ensure that the application preserves the element ordering as provided in the XML stream.

How should you complete the relevant code? (To answer, drag the appropriate attributes to the correct locations in the answer area-Each attribute may be used once, more than once, or not at all. You may need to drag the split bar between panes or scroll to view content.)

Answer:

Explanation:

Explanation

Target 1: The `DataContractAttribute.Namespace` Property gets or sets the namespace for the data contract for the type. Use this property to specify a particular namespace if your type must return data that complies with a specific data contract.

Target2, target3: We put `Order=10` on `FirstName` to ensure that `LastName` is ordered first.

Note:

The basic rules for data ordering include:

- * If a data contract type is a part of an inheritance hierarchy, data members of its base types are always first in the order.

- * Next in order are the current type's data members that do not have the `Order` property of the `DataMemberAttribute` attribute set, in alphabetical order.

- * Next are any data members that have the `Order` property of the `DataMemberAttribute` attribute set. These are ordered by the value of the `Order` property first and then alphabetically if there is more than one member of a certain `Order` value. `Order` values may be skipped.
